KFC Australia opens the doors to its Degustation restaurant following last night's launch event with a star-studded guestlist of famous chefs and celebs

From Friday 1 April - Sunday 3 April, KFC Australia will welcome the lucky fans who nabbed a reservation to enjoy its 11-course menu designed by degustation expert, Nelly Robinson.

KFC Australia officially welcomed guests to its world-first, fine dining Degustation restaurant at a Sydney launch event last night ahead of opening the doors to fans this weekend. Pulling out all the stops to make it a night to remember, guests were treated to 11 courses of masterfully crafted, fancy pants KFC as the red carpet was rolled out for an evening of decadent dining.

Following the announcement of KFC's Degustation restaurant earlier this month, over 20,000 fans joined the waitlist to nab a seat at the hottest – and tastiest – new restaurant in town. The KFC Degustation restaurant will take guests on a one-of-a-kind culinary journey over three nights from Friday 1 until Sunday 3 April.

Fans can expect to be blown away by not just the flavour – but the creativity and theatre – as they experience their favourite KFC menu items in unexpected new ways. The 11-course menu created in partnership with Nelly Robinson, Chef Patron and owner of Sydney restaurant, nel., features a decadent selection of dishes all inspired by and showcasing authentic KFC menu items and ingredients. The menu includes:

- You Call That A Burger? – A tomatoey marshmallow with secret dusting and cheese
- Zinger® Katsu – A delicious mouthful made with a mini-Zinger, katsu jus, curry mayo and dill on a potato pillow
- Supercharged® Wings – Cooked over a bed of charcoal, these are beautifully charred - and supercharged - wings
- Potato and Gravy – This dish is a marvel to behold as the gravy candle (yes, that's right!) melts, dip your potato bun into the "wax" and enjoy chef kiss fingers*
- Zinger® Kingfish – A new way to enjoy our Zinger (spicy) flavour crumbed delicately around sliced kingfish on top of yogurt slaw with lobster
- Our Twister – a dish in two parts:
 - Tongue Twister® – This one is Colonel's face on a plate with the flavours of Kentucky Fried Chicken, tomato, lettuce and Pepper Mayo to be licked off and relished
 - Twister® Sister – A fresh take on our Twister, this one comes with pearl barley risotto, sundried tomato, pumpkin and last but not least our Chicken Tenders
- Popcorn Chicken® – It's the Popcorn Chicken our fans know and love paired with celeriac soup, mushroom gnocchi and basil topped off with an edible floral garnish
- La Di Da Drumstick (aka Fried Gold) – Our iconic Original Recipe drumstick dusted with quinoa and gold 'coz we don't call it Fried Gold for nothing...
- Chips for Dessert – Taking our chippies to the next level this bad boy comes with wattle seed ice cream and burnt pineapple
- Our Chocolate Mousse – Dipped in nitrogen, these mouthfuls of scrummy chocolate mousse are 'oh-so-good' they will literally melt in your mouth
- Petit Krusher – An old favourite is back in one morsel of chocolate and peppermint goodness

Text 2

How Fast Fashion Is Destroying the Planet, by Tatiana Schlossberg.

There is that old saying, usually attributed to Yves Saint Laurent: "Fashion fades, style is eternal."

Literally speaking, that actually may no longer be true, especially when it comes to fast fashion. Fast-fashion brands may not design their clothing to last (and they don't), but as artefacts of a particularly consumptive era, they might become an important part of the fossil record.

More than 60 percent of fabric fibres are now synthetics, derived from fossil fuels, so if and when our clothing ends up in a landfill (about 85 percent of textile waste in the United States goes to landfills or is incinerated), it will not decay.

Nor will the synthetic microfibers that end up in the sea, freshwater and elsewhere, including the deepest parts of the oceans and the highest glacier peaks. Future archaeologists may look at landfills taken over by nature and discover evidence of Zara. And it is Zara and other brands like it that have helped plant flags on the farthest reaches of the planet. In "Fashionopolis," Dana Thomas, a veteran style writer, convincingly connects our fast-fashion wardrobes to global economic and climate patterns and crises, rooting the current state of the fashion biosphere as a whole — production methods, labour practices and environmental impacts — in the history of the garment industry.

The New York Times, September 3rd 2021

46. Who is the writer of this article?

- A. Yves Saint Laurent.
- B. Tatiana Shlossberg.
- C. Zara.
- D. Dana Thomas.

47. What is the word “fades” in the first sentence closest in meaning to?

- F. dissipates.
- G. increases.
- H. disappears.

48. What don't happen to old American clothes?

- I. They are buried in landfills.
- J. They are burnt.
- K. They will not rot.
- L. They will decay.

49. What is true about synthetic textile fibres?

- M. They are natural.
- N. They are easy to recycle.
- O. They represent only one third of all textile fibres.
- P. They are made of petrol.

50. According to the text, where can't we find synthetic microfibres?

- Q. At the bottom of the oceans.
- R. In the ice.
- S. In fresh water.
- T. In the food that is eaten.
